Background

Congratulations on successfully completing Part A of your final project! In Part B, your task is to document your work in a concise and professional manner by preparing a one-page report consisting of two key sections:

1. Model Description and Experimental Setting
 - a. Select one of the ranking models you developed during Part A.
 - b. Provide a detailed explanation of your chosen model, including the motivation behind pursuing this approach.
 - c. Clearly present the equations, algorithms, or techniques used.
 - d. Describe the experimental methodology, including the steps you took to build, train, and evaluate the model.
2. Related Work
 - a. Identify at least three academic papers related to your proposed model.
 - b. Summarize the key ideas and contributions of each paper.
 - c. Briefly compare and contrast these works with your own, highlighting similarities and differences.

Format Requirements

1. Submissions must be written in English.
2. The report, including references, must not exceed 1 page in length.
3. Include your student ID(s) in the submitted document.

I look forward to reading your submissions and learning about the innovative models you've developed.

Good Luck
